

The Early Bird Grabs Get Globals Savings

Sydney, Tuesday 12 December 2017: With just two weeks until the early bird offer ends, Get Global, is encouraging exhibitors who are considering attending the unique one-day MICE trade event dedicated exclusively to outbound product, to register soon.

Get Global Directors and Founders, Gary Bender and Donna Kessler, “There are several packages exhibitors can choose from, all with great early bird discounts. But only until Friday 29th December. There will be no deadline extension! We also have a ‘buy and save’ offer, and encourage companies to book together and save.”

By taking advantage of the buy and save offer, attendees could receive a discount of up to $860 (inc. GST) each.

Shelley Eastwood, Director of Sales, Conference & Incentives, Heritage and CityLife Hotels, “After attending Get Global in 2017, we were definitely keen to register early and ensure we took advantage of the great early bird offer. Get Global proved to be a key sales event for us. We were able to secure a new, large piece of business directly from our attendance at Get Global and we’re looking forward to securing even more. We wouldn’t miss Get Global 2018.”

Buy and Save Ticket Offer: Buy six, get one free OR Buy nine, get two free

With over 1320 connections made at Get Global 2017, the 2018 event is set to really deliver on its promise – Where the World Meets and attract even more decision makers from around the world.

ABOUT GET GLOBAL

Get Global is a joint venture between two passionate industry professionals who have seen a gap in the market for an outbound industry tradeshow. Our mission is to provide an innovative and efficient business platform for international suppliers to connect with corporate meeting planners, incentive houses, PCO's, travel companies and anyone else that has international group business from Australia.

Get Global, launched in 2017, was hailed a huge success by exhibitors and buyers alike. This innovative format for doing business is an intensive one day exhibition with 100% international product and is NOT your typical tradeshow. After the success of the inaugural event, Get Global is back in 2018 with more exhibitors (Go Getters), more buyers and more countries represented.
